SERMON REVIEW DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

These questions are for after the sermon and can be used for Life Group discussion, one-to-one discipleship, or personal reflection and application.

Last week, we went through one of the most striking images in the entire Bible, Jesus Christ, Lord of Lords and King of Kings rides into battle on His white horse. The battle ends in total victory with the Beast and the false prophet being cast into the lake of fire for eternity. The original readers, reading this letter for the first time, might pause at the end of ch. 19 and ask what about Satan? What about that great dragon, the deceiver, the accuser, the father of all lies and murder, the serpent which opened wide the door of temptation and invited Adam and Eve to step into sin. What about Satan? And maybe, just maybe, asking where are the saints? Revelation 20:1-10 answers those questions, but leaves much to the reader's imagination as well.

Discussion Questions

1. We have been going through a major section of Revelation, chapters 15-20, where we see the true and just judgment of God. What has surprised you about this section? What are some key observations or things you have learned? Do you believe that God has the right to judge?
2. We see in the first vision in this section of text that Satan is bound and sealed in the bottomless pit. John is using symbolic language to describe the binding of Satan, describing him as the dragon and the ancient serpent. What do you think it means that Satan is bound during this time period? Is he restrained fully or simply limited in his evil influence? Are there any other texts that come to mind that might shed light on the binding of Satan?
3. In the second vision we have another destination, a room of thrones, and the thrones are not empty but seated on them are those who have the authority to judge. John also sees martyrs and those who have not worshiped the beast. Do you believe these are three distinct groups of people or is John using these descriptions to represent the wide variety of all of God's people?
4. Read the seven blessings in Revelation (1:3, 14:13, 16:15, 19:9, 20:6, 22:7 & 22:14). What do you see as the unique element of the blessing in our passage? What does this blessing mean for you personally and how can reflecting on this blessing impact your walk with Christ?
5. In Revelation 20:7-10 Satan is easily defeated and thrown into the lake of fire for eternity. Christ is shown to be in control as he dispenses with Satan. How does Christ's present rule and reign, and the knowledge that he will ultimately deal with all evil impact your life? Have you chosen to follow Christ or are you still undecided?
